Topic: Endorsement for Fairfax County Commonwealth Attorneys race
Wednesday April 11, 2007

(Fairfax, Virginia) – The Fairfax Coalition of Police commends the 40 year distinguished career of Mr. Robert F. Horan. Mr. Horan is one of the best known and most respected prosecutors in the nation. The announcement that Mr. Horan will not run for an 11th term as the Fairfax County Commonwealth Attorney should cause all citizens of Fairfax County to reflect on the distinguished career of one of the top litigators in Fairfax County history.

Mr. Raymond F. Morrogh has been with the office of Commonwealth Attorney for twenty four years. For many years now, Mr. Morrogh has been serving as the Chief Deputy for the office, running much of the day to day operations of the busiest commonwealth attorney's offices in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Mr. Morrogh has the unique experience of having prosecuted many high profile cases and has demonstrated his courtroom as well as his administrative abilities. Mr. Morrogh is well known for his superior courtroom abilities and is well respected by the senior detectives with the Fairfax County Police Department. "The Fairfax Coalition of Police has a high level of confidence in Mr. Morrogh's abilities as a prosecutor and enthusiastically endorses him for the office of Commonwealth Attorney." Said Marshall Thielen, President of the Fairfax Coalition of Police, the largest police union in the state of Virginia.

The Fairfax Coalition of Deputy Sheriffs, IUPA Local 5016 joins the Fairfax Coalition of Police, IUPA Local 5000 in endorsing Raymond Morrogh for the office of Commonwealth Attorney.
